New Product Announcement

VECTOR™

Measure where it matters with Vector, the pedal-based power meter from Garmin. Vector is easy to buy, install and update. Vector measures total power, cadence and left/right power balance. It transmits the data for display on compatible Edge® cycling computers, Forerunner® multisport watches and other ANT+™ enabled head units.

KEY FEATURES:

MEASURING POWER	Vector delivers an objective, repeatable metric for training and assessing performance – watts, the rate of energy produced by the cyclist.
INVALUABLE TRAINING TOOL	Vector helps racers and enthusiasts understand strengths and weaknesses in order to train more effectively and get stronger and faster on the bike.
EASY TO BUY	No build-to-order process. ANT+ compatibility gives cyclists broad head unit options, and because Vector is pedal-based, it does not involve complex wheel or drivetrain tradeoffs.
EASY TO INSTALL	No mechanic is required. It's as easy as installing the pedals.
EASY TO OWN	Switch between bikes with just a pedal wrench. No magnets or additional sensors needed for cadence.
ROBUST AND RELIABLE	Sensors are permanently installed inside the pedal spindle (axle), a durable and long-life bicycle component. Measures total power and independent left/right leg power.
